

How to deal with information overload?

Your company holds a wealth of information; the challenge lies in maximising its use when data is spread out across systems ...

How do you maintain an overview of this rapid growth of documents?

delaware is an expert in document management and is ready to help you gain control over your company data. We do this with OpenText Extended ECM.

25 %

of the documents that are not properly stored, are never found

2,5 hours

that's how much time a knowledge worker spends per working day searching for information

15 %

of company revenue is spent on creating, managing and distributing documents

OpenText Extended ECM

OpenText Extended ECM excels at centralizing data and provides guidance if you recognize yourself in the following situations:

- ✓ To provide excellent service to a customer, you should always know what was agreed upon.
→ You gain a 360° view of your customers.
- ✓ When onboarding a new employee, you don't want to store the same data in five different systems.
→ There is a single source of truth
- ✓ When a driver arrives to deliver materials, you want to be able to see at a glance what was ordered, and what was delivered to whom → You maintain control over information that transcends systems.

90 %

Reduced costs for information search by investing in a DMS

Are you in control or is information slipping through your fingers

Meet delaware. Your partner for document management for over 15 years.

Get in touch directly

Request a demo

we commit. we deliver.

delaware